

Seone Update License For VAG ODIS (annual)

The VAG Group software update license is an annual subscription to keep the OEM software automatically up-to-date within SEONE.

This is not a usage license and does not provide access to the OEM software itself.

Description

The VAG Group software update license is an annual subscription that automatically keeps OEM diagnostic and programming software for vehicles within the VAG Group up to date within SEONE.

The update license ensures that existing functions for diagnosis, coding, programming and maintenance continue to work according to the latest factory specifications. This is an update license only, it is not a usage license and does not provide access to the OEM software itself. The VAG group includes Volkswagen, Audi, Skoda, SEAT, Cupra, Bentley and MAN.
